

BOARD OF DIRECTORS RECRUITMENT

UPDATED: OCT. 4, 2022

About Us

The DANK Haus is a 501(c)3 organization that promotes German American language and culture. It is one of the founding chapters of the German American National Congress (also known as DANK - Deutsch Amerikanischer National Kongress). DANK National is the largest organization of Americans of Germanic descent. The DANK Haus, also known as Chicago Chapter North, established its roots as part of this organization in 1960.

DANK Haus was built in 1927 by architect Paul Gerhardt, son-in-law of a Chicago Alderman and architect of Cook County Hospital, Lane Technical High School, Von Steuben High School, and the L&H Company Building. It was built for the Three Links Association, a jolly fellows club.

DANK purchased the property in 1967 through the generosity of members who used their own homes as collateral. Over the years, DANK has been host to a spa, a business college, a restaurant, a hotel, and a cafe. In 2003, the facility narrowly escaped being sold, rescued by the infusion of a dedicated and energetic Board and membership. Significant capital improvements have been made over the years and more are on the horizon. The DANK Haus welcomes anyone interested in German and German American heritage and culture to volunteer and serve.

Our Mission

It is our mission to preserve and promote German American culture, heritage, and language through our museum, art gallery, library, and language school. And to organize educational and social programming that focuses on and emphasizes the history, traditions, and contributions of Germans and German Americans.
